Unheard cry

Rinu, an eighteen year old is seen with so much of enthusiasm and happiness in her college. She is always fun to have around and so she is liked by all her friends. She doesn't have any close friends as she treats everybody the same. She doesn't allow any of them around her to be sad. She always makes them joyful with her lame jokes. Rinu is a kind of girl who encourages anybody and makes them gain their confidence. She is always a positive girl spreading only smiles and positive vibes. Rinu is a colorful butterfly flying around whom everybody admires. People who were jealous about her happiness tried to put her down and make her cry at least once before completing the college. So some decided to bully her and make fun of her but all those failed in their attempt as Rinu's reply was a smile for their action. Rinu was also insulted and they also tried to portray her bad in her college to stir her emotions but all she gave back was her beautiful smile. The students who tried their best to pull her down were fed up and failed in their attempt and they left her after that. Her friends came to her to speak about all the abuse and insult but she had a smile and said that they did for fun and she also took it easily. Her friends were shocked to see her react this way. Rinu was seen happy which made her friends surprised. Rinu engaged herself in extracurricular activities and excelled everywhere. She also became a rank holder at the end. Rinu's friends and everybody who knew her thought she didn't bother about all the insecurities caused to her and that she had no emotions like a normal human being. But the reality is that Rinu had more feelings and emotions that only her heart knew. She was the one who cried the most inside her heart and she is the one who had more feelings that almost caused her depression but she would experience all the sufferings and pain in loneliness and that is known only to her heart.

Moral: One must not judge anyone by their outer appearance. They might go through a lot of pain and sufferings which we do not know but their heart knows. Everyone has emotions and feelings but some only show their happy side to make the world happy and cry inside themselves.
